M.A RAÚL ARÉVALO CUADRA

Dean FAREM-Carazo

The Deep transformations promoted by scientific and technologic advances in the last decades, influenced in the teaching-learning processes and in the knowledge management, demanding the reframing of pedagogic paradigms and search models, which at the same time need the massive diffusion in an epoch characterized by the accelerated development of communications and the greater and greater opening, of room for intellectual creations: Universities, investigation centers, teaching departments and academic events such as scientific congresses, technology development fairs, forums, debates, cultural interchanges and different means of intellectual production.

In this context, the magazine Torreón Universitario of FAREM-CARAZO has been placed in a privileged place in the University task, it has been indexed and lodged in transcendental and academical international sites, with a constant, four-monthly issue and currently is edited in bilingual and digital way.

This issue of the magazine Torreón Universitario of FAREM-Carazo presents highly interesting topics of scientific, technology, historic and of the social sciences relating to upper education.

I urge all the university community to get immersed in the world of scientific-academic investigation, aiming to contribute in great degree on the economy, politic, social, cultural and technology development of the country, through contributions from a critical, reflexive and proposing perspective, not losing the educative frame centered around human being.

To freedom through the University!
