Universidad Nacional Autónoma de Nicaragua, UNAN-Managua being a university that emerges from the people and for the people, has the mission of training professionals of quality. Professionals with a critical, humanistic and solidary sense, who immerse themselves and contribute to the academic, scientific, economic, cultural, environmental, ideological, political and social development of Nicaragua.

In this sense, Revista Torreón Universitario from Facultad Regional Multidisciplinaria, Carazo, UNAN-Managua, makes available to the Nicaraguan population, a range of articles, essays and scientific research that are in line with the contextual development of technology, without losing sight of the formation and preservation of ethical and moral values.

The Revista Torreón Universitario in this edition presents several works in which it is possible to determine the quality of the superior education such as, the educational evaluation, in its traditional, alternative, and innovative approach as well as democracy and cultural perspective. The importance of applying the didactic model that allows the development of competences in students. The application of didactic strategies in the classroom, to motivate students to improve their academic performance; as well as to address the assessment and analysis of graduates and employers on three major factors: satisfaction, job performance and professional profile of graduates of the Hispanic Language and Literature Major.

In addition, this edition contains information related to the world of our ancestors through the pottery production of ceramic designs that shape the cultural identity of San Juan de Oriente, Masaya.

Once again the Revista Torreón Universitario of UNAN-Managua, FAREM-Carazo urges and encourages all students, teachers and researchers to follow the instincts of autonomous, critical, reflective, entrepreneurial and innovative thinking.
